Your First Wonky Bloom

Paint along with me in the Week 0 video

Hello, and welcome! This is the very first painting page from my little Wonky Watercolour School. In the Week 0 video I trace this exact bloom onto watercolour paper, and then we make our first puddles of colour together. Pop the video on, print the next page, and paint along at your own pace.

How to use your page

- Print the next page at 100% on ordinary paper. On US Letter paper, choose "Fit to page".
- Trace it onto watercolour paper with a light pad or a sunny window, using a soft pencil and a light touch.
- Paint one flower, one puddle at a time. Inside the lines or right over them: both are completely right.

Coming next: Term Two

Term Two, Cosy Winter Studio, starts on Monday 11 January 2027, and you don't need to have done Term One to join. Everyone on the waitlist hears first when the doors open.

Your First Wonky Bloom

One flower, one puddle, no pressure. Paint inside the lines or wander right over them — both are completely right.
