Print, cut and fold

Ten minutes, a ruler and some thin card: that's all you need

1 Print

Print the sheets at 100% (Actual size) on A4 card, about 200 to 250 gsm, so the cards stand up on their own. Matte card takes handwriting best. On US Letter paper, choose Fit to page.

2 Cut

Cut along the thin grey line round each card. A craft knife and a metal ruler give the crispest edges, but good scissors are fine. The little corner marks show you where to cut.

3 Score and fold

Lay a ruler along the dashed line and run an empty ballpoint pen down it. Then fold the top half back, so the picture faces out. Each card stands 9 cm wide and 6 cm tall.

4 Write the names

Write each guest's name on the line with a fine black or gold pen. Pencil it in lightly first if you're nervous, then go over it.

Colour or colour your own?

Pages 3 to 5 are the colour cards, ready to go. Pages 6 to 8 are the same 12 designs as line drawings: a lovely Christmas Eve job for children, and everyone knows exactly where they're sitting. Coloured pencils or felt tips work best on card.
